Featuring major international and national artists, it showcases high-profile touring productions including performances by the Sydney Symphony Orchestra, Melbourne International Comedy Festival and the Australian Dance Theatre.

Theatre enthusiasts will love HotHouse Theatre in the Butter Factory – a converted 1928 dairy on the banks of the Murray at Gateway Village, Wodonga. It’s an intimate setting where you can often meet the actors afterwards.

The Cube Wodonga, is a state-of-the-art entertainment centre, hosts a variety of entertainment, touring bands, theatre, community performances, film screenings and much more.
Albury Wodonga has always been a place that brings people together. The past is alive and well here, as you’ll discover.

Live the legends
For the original inhabitants of the area, the Wiradjuri people, the area where Albury Wodonga stands today was an important river crossing and tribal meeting place. The Albury LibraryMuseum’s award-winning Crossing Place exhibition takes this as the starting point for a fascinating collection of local objects, oral stories and film that gives an engaging insight into the city’s past. You can also find out about some of our more famous residents – basketball player Lauren Jackson, tennis players Margaret Court and Jack Crawford and country music legend Lee Kernaghan.

X marks the spot
Here the explorers Hume and Hovell found a place to cross the Murray so they could continue their journey of discovery south to Melbourne. Hovell Tree Park at the western end of Hume Street in Albury is the location of the tree inscribed by the explorer William Hovell in 1824. Just near the park on Wodonga Place stands the Turks Head Hotel, Albury’s first pub and once the most popular place in town.

STEP BACK

The Albury Heritage Trail takes you back a hundred years or so into our social, political and economic past. Take a walk around the 18th and 19th century buildings on Dean Street between Kiewa and Olive Streets. Download the Albury Historic Building Walking Tour app to give you info on 21 landmarks along Smollett and Dean Streets. The full tour takes two hours, but you can stop off at one of the great cafés in the area to refuel. A hard copy of the tour is also available from the Albury Visitor Information Centre.
TIME TRAVEL:

Albury’s grand Italianate style railway station, built in 1881, was once a passenger transfer point on the break of gauge railway between Sydney and Melbourne. This made it a very busy place, and its covered platform is the longest in Australia.

Boy have we got some stories to tell you!
MILITARY BUFFS:

An impressive collection of war vehicles at the Army Museum at Bandiana awaits those with an interest in war memorabilia. There are also prisoner of war and ordnance displays as well as the Turkish 75mm Krupp Field Gun captured by the 11th Australian Light Horse Regiment and the 4th Machine Gun Squadron during fighting at Semakh in 1918.
The Albury Wodonga region represented a new beginning for over 330,000 European immigrants who arrived in Australia after World War II as part of the government’s post-war migration scheme. Standing inside one of the living quarters at Block 19, you can almost hear the many voices of those who once began new lives in Australia at the Bonegilla Migrant Reception Centre. A place that once bustled with activity, it is now a peaceful and contemplative place that allows us to think about the contribution that migrants have made to this country. Take the opportunity to write or record a piece of history or try the new Suitcase Trail, an interactive activity designed for both children and adults. It’s well worth taking the Lake Hume loop past the Hume Weir and around Kangaroo Point.

www.bonegilla.org.au

Building vision

A triumph of engineering, the Hume Dam wall was constructed way back in 1919 using steam engines and horse-drawn carts and it took 17 years to complete.

When it was built it was the largest dam in the southern hemisphere. Some original pieces of machinery are on display at the wall.

The scale of this project is truly awe inspiring. The dam was built to provide water for irrigation and hydro-electric power for the state grid.

At capacity, it holds over five times the water volume of Sydney Harbour.

RIDE THE LINE:

If you like to get outdoors for your history fix, try pedalling the old railway line on the High Country Rail Trail. The old railway line was built in 1887 and was used to transport material for the Snowy Mountain Scheme. The last train headed out along this track in 1978. Take in the beautiful high country scenery as you pass Lake Hume, Bonegilla and several beautiful reserves with picnic facilities.
With so much fresh air and amazing natural scenery right outside your door, who can resist the call to get out and play? You’ll find natural woodlands, manicured gardens and outdoor fun for all seasons.

Run, walk or spin your wheels
We’ve got over 90 kilometres of beautiful trails in our region, so, whatever speed you’re going at, you’re bound to be inspired. Pick up a map, get your runners on and hit the trail! Try an early morning run along the peaceful Wagirra Trail on the banks of the Murray River and check out the signs about Wiradjuri history and culture while you’re taking a break.

Revitalise the spirit with the lake, river and alpine views from the trails at Wodonga’s Huon Hill Parklands. Enthusiastic cyclists won’t miss the High Country Rail Trail along the old railway line from Wodonga to Old Tallangatta – a distance of 43 kilometres each way. The new landscape architecture on the Trail’s 600m Sandy Creek Bridge is a big attraction for walkers and bike riders. You can hire a bike from the Wodonga Visitor Information Centre or one of the local bike shops.

Nail Can Hill is the place to head if you’re into unspoiled bush, spring wildflowers and great vistas. If you like a challenge, you’ll love the popular Nail Can Hill Run on the second Sunday in May, which has been held every year since 1977. Steve Moneghetti did it in 34.57 minutes, but don’t let that put you off! Whether you’re a serious competitor, fun runner or casual walker, you’ll enjoy a really great day out. Enter online at www.nailcanhillrun.com

The Hill is also where you’ll find the most avid mountain bikers testing themselves on the trails.

This beautiful location was once an important meeting place for Wiradjuri tribes.

On top of the world
One of the best ways to see Albury Wodonga is from the World War I monument on Monument Hill at the Botanic Gardens end of Dean Street, Albury. It’s a bit of a climb but shorter than it looks and you can take a breather half way up in the delightful Indigenous Garden and enjoy the atmosphere alongside the gracious homes of West Albury. Once you’re up, stand at the lookout for a great view and hear the sounds of the city rise up to you.

There’s a short nature trail from the monument if you fancy some more walking.

SNOW BUNNIES:
Ski right to the front door of your Falls Creek or Mt Hotham chalet after a big day on the slopes.
Two hour’s drive from Albury Wodonga is the place where Australian legends were made. This country, which inspired Banjo Patterson’s ode to the Man from Snowy River and his famous downhill ride, is also the place where the first intrepid skiers tried Australia’s pristine slopes. It’s still a popular destination for skiing, but it’s also a hot spot for cycling, fishing, camping and bushwalking. This is one of the most beautiful landscapes you’ll find anywhere.

Towong Shire

In the foothills of the Snowy Mountains you’ll find the small, picturesque town of Corryong, whose street names are those of local families who have been farming this area for generations. If you’re exploring the tiny townships and stunning scenery of the area, Corryong is the ideal place to stop and recharge – try Pepper Leaf or Legends on Hanson Street.

If you’re in town in autumn, don’t miss Corryong’s Man from Snowy River Bush Festival, which celebrates Banjo Patterson’s real-life inspiration with bush culture, folk music and spectacular horsemanship.

Worth going a bit further afield for is the Snowy Mountains Scheme at Murray 1 Power Station near Khancoban. To inspect the power station and learn more about it, visit between 9.00am and 4.00pm on any day during the summer months [weekdays only in winter].

Mount Hotham – Falls Creek – Mount Buffalo

Falls Creek and Mount Hotham are fabulous places to ski and you’ll find the perfect slope to suit your level of expertise. Mount Buffalo is your spot for family snow play, tobogganing and cross-country.

Get your snow gear from the specialist supply stores in Albury Wodonga before you head up. Buses run from here to the snowfields every day during the ski season, so Albury Wodonga is the perfect base for your snow adventures. Or skip the drive, book a heli-shuttle with Forest Air Helicopters and land at Falls Creek in just 35 minutes!
Albury Wodonga is the gateway to the diverse Murray region, which extends westward all the way to Mildura and Wentworth. Follow the river to the many character-filled towns along its banks.

Howlong
Howlong is a great place to pitch your tent – you’ll find a picturesque site on the banks of the Murray. The challenging, immaculately kept course at Howlong Country Golf Club & Motel is one of the most popular in the region.

Corowa
With the river on its doorstep, Corowa, the birthplace of Federation, is a great spot for swimming, fishing, canoeing and waterskiing, as well as bushwalking and golf. Visit a few of the area’s historic wineries, such as Pfeiffer’s and All Saints. If you’re in town in November, cheer your yabbie home at the Great Australian Spring Carnival Cup, where aspiring yabbies compete for first place and ‘owners’ vie for prizes.

Yarrawonga & Mulwala
A feast of golf awaits golfing diehards at one of the biggest attractions of the region – the Yarrawonga Mulwala Golf Club. In between rounds, you can get out onto the croquet lawns or try some lawn bowls.

If you’re more into fish than golf, check out what’s biting at some of the great local fishing and camping spots in the area.

Deniliquin
‘Deni’ is known for its famous ute muster, held each October and Blues festival held in April. But there’s plenty to do here all year round. Birdwatchers will love the wetlands just outside Deniliquin, where you can spot many species of waders and other migratory water birds. For bushwalkers, there’s a great network of forest trails as well as the Long Paddock River Walk, part of a classic stock route dating back to the 1800s.
Echuca & Moama
The old Port of Echuca was once the largest inland port in Australia, and Echuca Moama still operates the largest fleet of paddle-steamers in the world. Take a Wharf Walk to see some of the fascinating relics of the history of the port, including many original steam pumps and engines, or visit the recently opened Port of Echuca Discovery and Interpretative Centre.

Swan Hill
For a fascinating insight into life in the Murray–Mallee area in the 1800s, head to Swan Hill’s famous Pioneer Settlement Museum or enjoy the magnificent Murray from the decks of the 1896 paddle-steamer Pyap.

Mildura
Mildura is famous for its old paddle-steamers as well as great food and wine from the orchards and vineyards that surround it. ‘Feastreet’, its famous dining precinct, offers everything from a casual bite to a special experience at the iconic ‘Stefano’s’. Whether you hire a houseboat on the Murray or book into the Grand Hotel, you’re right where the action is – canoeing, water skiing, golfing or exploring the wineries and award-winning brewery.

For further information visitthemurray.com.au or pick up the Murray Touring Map from your nearest Visitor Information Centre.

MUST DO:

Visit Corowa Whisky and Chocolate in the old Corowa Flour Mill, built in the 1920s – perfect for a coffee stop.

Take a guided cruise through the world heritage listed Barmah Wetlands from Echuca or Moama – you’ll see the world’s largest river red gum forest and some fantastic wildlife.
