

LOCKHART'S GAP- half day ride 132 Km TANGAMBALANGA, LOCKHART'S GAP, TALLANGATTA, WODONGA.

First head toward Tallangatta and turn right at Bonegilla (National Heritage site, many post WW2 migrants began their Australian experience here, check out hut 19 sometime) Along a nice no traffic road to Tangambalanga and then to Lockharts Gap for a few twisties. It will take just over three quarters of an hour, then turn back down the Omeo Hwy to Tallangatta takes another 30 min or so. (This is the town where the Albury/Wodonga Ulysses holds its annual Rally, usually in March, but February this year, so come early! You should find most facilities you require here, and you could find yourself a nice spot on the weir for a breather. Back to Wodonga along the Murray Valley Hwy which follows the banks of Lake Hume. The whole trip is an easy morning or afternoon ride.

TOTAL DISTANCE 132Km,Half day ride on good road surfaces, just watch out for a couple of tight corners on Lockhart's Gap
